At the University of Bolton, we are proud to put our students and their needs first – it is what we are about. We know what it takes to provide a student experience that students love and that prepares them for employment; that is why we have been ranked 1st in the North West for Student Satisfaction for the past 3 years by The Complete University Guide.

Following exceptional growth in student numbers the University of Bolton is looking to recruit a number of Senior Lecturer and Lecturer roles within the Institute of Management. These roles demonstrate the commitment of the University to the development of courses that sit within the IoM. The key duties of the post holder will be to contribute to the teaching and delivery of programmes at undergraduate, taught postgraduate or professional programmes, including the academic and personal support of students. In addition, it is expected that you will take on additional responsibilities to support the growth of the IoM as outlined in the job description.

Professional body membership for this role; along with a first degree and preferably a teaching qualification. A commitment to undertaking a PhD and membership of the HEA must be undertaken within an agreed timeframe if not already attained.

You will be joining the IoM at an exciting time as we continue to develop our programmes and grow our student numbers both home and internationally.
